The 2025 Hyundai Palisade SEL combines practicality with comfort in a three-row design built for families and active lifestyles. This gray exterior presents a clean, versatile appearance that complements any setting, while the V6 engine paired with an 8-speed automatic transmission delivers consistent performance for everyday driving and highway travel. Inside, you'll find a well-appointed cabin designed for both driver and passenger comfort. The heated front bucket seats provide warmth during cooler months, while the power adjustments allow you to find your ideal driving position. The front dual zone automatic temperature control ensures both front passengers can set their preferred climate independently. Rear air conditioning keeps those in the second and third rows comfortable on longer journeys, and the power liftgate makes loading and unloading cargo effortless. Technology integration is straightforward with the navigation system and multimedia setup featuring Apple CarPlay and Android Auto compatibility. The AM/FM/MP3 audio system paired with SiriusXM satellite radio keeps you connected and entertained. Steering wheel-mounted audio controls let you manage your listening experience without taking your hands from the wheel. Safety is addressed through a comprehensive airbag system including dual front impact, dual front side, knee, and overhead airbags, along with 4-wheel disc brakes featuring ABS. Electronic stability control and traction control work together to maintain composure in various driving conditions. The rear parking camera provides visibility when backing up, helping you avoid obstacles and navigate tight spaces with confidence. With EPA-estimated fuel economy of 19 city and 26 highway, this Palisade offers reasonable efficiency for a three-row SUV. The independent suspension on all four wheels contributes to smooth ride quality, while the 18-inch alloy wheels are mounted on a dependable platform. The split-folding rear seat and reclining third-row seat configurations provide flexibility to accommodate passengers or cargo as your needs change. The Palisade SEL represents a practical choice for those seeking a capable, comfortable three-row vehicle ready to handle the demands of modern family life. We invite you to inspect this vehicle in person and experience firsthand how it can serve your daily transportation needs.
